DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 and 28-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Christensen et al (US 4487602 A).

Christensen et al discloses a discloses a needle device (10) comprising a housing (30) having a base (15) adapted to be placed next to a surface of a needle penetrating site, the base (15) including an opening (see fig. 2); a needle (50) mounted for a movement between a retracted position in the housing (30) and an extended position, where a portion of the needle (50) extends through the opening when in the extended position; an actuator (20) movably mounted to the housing (30) and movable between an unactuated position at which the needle (50) is in the retracted position and an unactuated position at which the needle (50) is in the extended position, the actuator being biased toward the unactuated position; a retraction mechanism that automatically moves the needle (50) from the extended position to the retracted position upon releasing the base (15) from the site surface; wherein the retraction mechanism (4, 5) maintains the needle (12) in the retracted position upon moving the actuator (11) to the actuated position; (col. 7 line 40) further comprises a locking mechanism (28) that prevents the needle (50) from moving back to the extended position once the needle (50) has been moved from the extended position to the retracted position, and is integral with the retraction mechanism (see fig. 2).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-11, 13-16 and 28-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
